EXIT WHISKEY.

On Monday of this week the last vestige of the liquor organization, as a power in the political field, so far as the Eleventh District is concerned, was annihilated. There remains not a single city, town, village or hamlet in the whole of the Eleventh District, comprising the Mountain section of the State, where liquor, or any drink containing alcoholic substances, can be legally sold. Of course, this does not mean that the sale of liquors will be stopped immediately and for good, but it does mean that the city and the State, so far as this section of it is concerned, will not stand for the legal robbery of every poor, benighted fool's pocketbook when his wife and children are crying at home for something with which to sustain life. However there will still remain a small part of the men who have engaged in this hellish traffic in these communities which have voted dry and so long as they remain there will, perforce, be more or less illicit sale of whiskey, but if the officers of the law will enforce the laws on the statute books and merely do their duty as the law requires of them, it will be only a short while until the illicit sale of whiskey is completely stamped out and then the "Bug-bear" of the Wet forces will be proven to be a nonentity. The wets have all along raised the hue and cry that when the saloons were voted out of a community, the boot-leggers would soon grow beyond the control of the officers and the Courts, and that we would then be facing conditions infinitely worse than the conditions with the saloon. Their chief argument seemed to be that the Saloon, if an evil at all, was a necessary evil, and was an evil which ultimately worked for the good and the well being of the people of the community. But the mountain people as a whole, have risen up in their might and declared that they would take no such fallacious argument as this, and that they would not only stamp out all organized liquor traffic, but the general trend of Public Opinion, the Vox Populi, will demand that the officers enforce the laws against "boot-leggers."

According to advices received at this office just before we go to press, Bell county has "gone dry" by a thousand votes. Middlesboro, which is situated in Bell county, has been the last stronghold of the liquor forces in the Eleventh District. Only last summer, liquor was voted out of the city of Somerset, leaving only Middlesboro, of this whole vast Mountain region, to the wet forces. Our own county has been dry so long that "the mind of man runneth not to the contrary," to use an expression borrowed from William Blackstone. Of this our own people have the right to be very proud. But further than this, we have the right to be proud of the fact that "boot-legging" in this county is practically an unknown thing, thus proving fallacious the argument of the wets that boot-legging will flourish when the saloons are driven out. We do not mean to say that there will be no boot-legging in Middlesboro or in Bell county, but we do mean to say that if the officers of that city and of that county will visit upon these offenders a swift and heavy penalty they will soon go out of business.

It is interesting to compare the sentiment in favor of Local Option and Temperance in the Mountains and in the other sections of the State. We have shown ourselves so superior to the people of other sections of the State in so many ways since our resources have begun to be developed, but we feel that we cannot refrain from "crowing" just a little over the result of this last Local Option election. Although the election was not held in this county, yet there is a community of interest and a bond between all the counties of the Mountains which binds them closely together, and makes all the people rejoice with Bell county in their magnificent and winning fight against the whiskey evil. Only a few days ago, the counties of McCracken, Davies and Christian, held Local Option elections and the results show that the liquor forces carried every one of these counties. Yet it is with a great deal of pleasure that we learn that nine of the twelve counties in which Local Option elections were held Monday have voted "dry." The counties which voted "wet" are Fayette, Anderson and — The good counties of Clark and Bourbon, which are nearest us, voted in favor of stamping out the liquor traffic. Out of a total of one hundred and twenty counties in the State of Kentucky, one hundred and five counties are totally dry.

Fortunately, we are so situated that none of the surrounding counties can now have open saloons. The nearest open saloon to Barbourville and Knox county, when the results of the election held Monday is enforced, will be in the city of Lexington, and it is not very probable that that many of our bibling citizens will journey to Lexington in order to imbibe. To the immediate South of us lies the State of Tennessee, which is as dry as a powderhorn, and we are looking forward to the time when all Kentucky will refuse to allow any intoxicating beverage to be sold within its borders. We do not think we are fanatics on this question, but we believe that State-wide Prohibition for Kentucky will mean a greater material, as well as moral advancement.

CHANGE OF HOTEL MANAGEMENT

The Jones Hotel is again on the move. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mealy, who, for the past few months have managed our hotel, are to take charge of the Pineville Hotel at Pineville, Ky., and we learn that Mr. W. M. Jones will again take charge of Jones Hotel.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Mealy have only been with us a very short time they have won many warm friends here who regret very much to have them leave. We wish them mighty well and congratulate Pineville on having secured this congenial pair to manage their leading hotel.

Washington Letter

(SPECIAL TO THE ADVOCATE)

Washington, D. C., Oct 1, '14 —"With the industries of the country largely paralyzed and labor out of work, it is no time to impose additional taxes, and taxes, too which are entirely unnecessary," declared James R. Mann, Republican Minority Leader of the House of Representatives, in a statement today. Congressman Mann's statement is regarded as an important utterance in view of the fight the Republican Minority is making in both House and Senate to prevent the Democratic Minority from imposing a so-called "war" tax on the people in addition to their other burdens of taxation, at a time when this country is at peace with all the world.

"There is no need to put new taxes on the people at this time," Mr. Mann asserts. "While there may be a slight falling off in customs receipts during the European war, that can easily be more than met by proper governmental economy. The war in Europe may be over soon and the treasury can meet expenses of the government without difficulty for a long time to come if it draws on the government money now deposited in the banks. Much of the money already appropriated need not be used for the present if the President will direct the departments to practice economy. There are many things which can wait over. Temporary delay in many cases will be no injury."

What He said to the Editor

A western editor has received the following letter.

"Please send me a few copies of the paper which had the obituary and verses about the death of my child a week or so ago. Also publish the enclosed clipping about my niece's marriage. And I wish you would mention in your local column, if it don't cost anything, that I have a couple of bull calves to sell. Send me a couple of extra papers this week. As my subscription is out, please stop my paper. Times are too hard to waste money on a newspaper."

Had Some Results.

"What do you think of her voice since it has been trained?" "Well," smiled Brown, "I can't say that it is any better than it was, but there is certainly a whole lot more of it."—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Neatly Headed Off.

"Do you not propose to marry?" asked Miss Flitters of young Mr. Bainbridge. "Well, I haven't proposed yet," replied he, in a tone which forbade a further prosecution of inquiry.—Puck.

Alcohol From Sap of Nipa Palm.

The Philippine islands produce approximately 10,000,000 gallons of alcohol yearly. Almost all of this is made from the sap of the nipa palm that grows in great abundance in various swamps of the country.

Never Tried It.

"Oh, Mildred," cried one young lady, meeting a school friend of some two summers past, "I've heard the greatest piece of news. Can you keep a secret?" "I don't know," said the friend. "I never tried it. What is it?"

Obstacles Everywhere.

Life is like walking along a crowded street; there always seem to be fewer obstacles to getting along on the opposite pavement; and yet if one crosses over matters are rarely mended.—Thomas Hurley.

Was the Only One.

Bix—"Wasn't it Admiral Porter who said: 'Take no quarter from the enemy?' " Dix—"Dunno! If it was he's the only porter that ever said such a thing."—Boston Transcript.

Try This.

Sponger (meeting acquaintance)—"Do you know, old man, I really believe I'm losing my nerve? I'm getting so I hate to ask any one for a loan. As soon as I saw you I began to tremble."—Boston Times.

Success Secret.

Apocryph of the bad effects of business on the health, a millionaire contractor, said in a Y. M. C. A. address in Cleveland: "The bad effects of business on the health of business men is such that I confidently inform all our salesmen that, in order to win infallibly the friendly interest of any business man over forty, the one thing to do is to commence the interview by producing for examination and discussion a box of some new kind of dyspepsia cure."

Up-to-Date Storekeeper.

Selling delicatessen a prosaic occupation, fit only for fat men of Teutonic extraction? Nonsense! Not while the business or art or profession contains men like the New York storekeeper who has put over his place a big sign reading "Culinary Art Specialties."

To Remedy a Leaky Pen.

If one is troubled with a leaky fountain pen the application of a little soap to the threads of the screw will work magic. If the pen is emptied, thoroughly cleaned, filled and the soap applied there will be no more trouble until the pen needs filling again.

The Modern Idea.

Chappy—"Would you marry a woman who had sued another man for breach of promise?" Sappy—"It would depend largely on how much the jury had awarded her."—Club Fellow.

She Is Not Yet Extinct.

What has become of the old-fashioned mother who thought that her small son was destined to become a great musician because he could get a tune out of a mouth organ?—Exchange.

Heard in a Divorce Court.

Judge (to woman asking separation)—"How long have your relations been unpleasant?" Woman—"Your honor, my relations have always been pleasant; it's his relations that are the old grouches."

Treatment of Cuts.

A finger cut with a clean knife needs only to be washed with soap and water before dressing. A wound made with an unclean instrument ought to have a cleansing that will be destructive to germs.

Hard for a Man to Believe.

Mrs. Cutler of Vancouver proved by the registration of a pedometer that she had covered 400 miles in a month in walking about her kitchen and living rooms while performing her household duties.

What's Yours is Mine.

"I consider that whatever belongs to my husband belongs to me."—A woman witness in a Jersey City trial. The general feminine view and in practice the usual condition.—New York World.

Host's Bad Break.

High society has its crude personalities, if a story in one of the magazines is true. At a dinner given to the famous pianist, Liszt, his host, Count Ludolf, right in the middle of Liszt's most exquisite playing, "said in a loud voice, 'If anyone wishes to have a game of whist, there are tables in the other room.'" Liszt, says the narrator, stopped short, but as no one moved he consented amiably to remain at the piano. The amount of wine that had been consumed by Liszt's host on this occasion is not stated.

The Hypocrite.

The divine punishment of hypocrisy is fatigue. Those, in Shakespeare's fine simile, whose hearts are all as false as stairs of sand, must really have much of that exhausted sensation that comes of walking through sand when it is loose and deep. The hypocrite is that unluckiest of actors who is never out of a job.—G. K. Chesterton.

Money in Kangaroo Raising.

In Australia kangaroo farming is an important industry. The hides are valuable, and the tendons are the best known to surgeons for sewing up wounds, and especially for holding broken bones together, being much finer and tougher than catgut.

Postcard Hint.

Save your picture postcards and when preparing them to send to hospitals and orphan asylums paste two together, back to back, thus concealing the address and message, and also giving the sick babies two pictures to look at instead of one.

Not Altogether Unselfish.

Husband (newly married)—"Don't you think, love, if I smoke it would spoil the curtains?" Wife—"Ah! you are really the most unselfish and thoughtful husband in the world; certainly it would." Husband—"Well, then, take the curtains down."

Names, Please.

There is nothing lovelier and sweeter than an old lady willing to admit her years, and nothing more ridiculous and pathetic than one who entertains the delusion that clothes and puffs and powder can shoo the years away.—Toledo Blade.

Put it on the Other Fellow.

"We should so live," remarked the man on the car, "that the other fellow will be to blame if anything goes wrong."

Salt in the Oceans.

The salt contained in the oceans is estimated at more than 4,800,000 cubic miles, or enough to cover the United States with a layer 1.6 miles deep.

Where the Woman Shines.

A politician may be able to pack a convention all right, but when it comes to packing a trunk he has to turn the job over to his wife.

Numerous Nut Trees.

It is estimated that the nut trees of the world could furnish food enough to sustain three times the present population of the world if the nuts could all be utilized.

Esthetic.

The Customer—"Oh, but haven't you any other tfit in lettuce than this? It won't go with my new blue salad dish a bit!"—Sketch.

It Couldn't Hurt Her.

Mama—"Keep quiet, Edna. You never hear me cry when my hair is being combed." Small Edna—"Y-yes, but a lot of your h-hair hasn't h-hitched to your h-head."

Sad Fact.

Age cannot wither nor custom stale the infinite sadness of entries on the right-hand page of the bank book.—Ohio State Journal.

Daily Thought.

In God's world, for those who are in earnest, there is no failure. No work truly done, no word earnestly spoken, no sacrifice, freely made, was ever made in vain.—F. W. Robertson.

Soldiers' Ammunition.

In the United States army the infantry goes to battle with 100 rounds of ammunition on him and 120 rounds per man in two bandollers in wagons not far behind him. The German soldier carries 120 rounds, the French 120, the Austrian 120, the British soldier 100, the Russian 120, the Italian 162, the Japanese 150 and the Swiss 120. In battalion and company carts near at hand the ammunition, added to that carried by the men brings the supply of cartridges up to an average of about 300 per rifle.

The Pinch.

"Yes, I don't so much mind 'im givin' me the sack. That's all right. But 'e was a dirty outsider to send a letter to the paper advertisin' for a boy—a boy, mark you—to take my place!"—London Opinion.

Beauty to Be Seen in Rain.

It is a great mistake always to know enough to go in when it rains. One may keep snug and dry by such knowledge, but one misses a world of loveliness.

Tastes Change.

Funny that the very fellow who begs a girl for a lock of her hair in the courtship days when he kisses it so fondly will swear like a trooper if he finds one of them in the butter after he is married.

"And what is your favorite motto?" asked the reporter who was interviewing the candidate for congress. "Put yourself in his place," replied the candidate.

When Liars Are No More.

A Canadian preacher thinks the time is near when there will be no liars. When that time comes obituaries will be much shorter than they are now.—Toledo Blade.

Philosophy in Hindu Proverb.

There is a Hindu proverb which can give a good deal of solid satisfaction in a hard world. It runs, "I had no boots to my feet and I murmured until I met a man along the road with no feet."

Proverb Liquidized.

Some men are so accustomed to thinking in liquid measure that we suppose the way they would put it is that a glass of prevention is worth a quart of cure.

No Man Knows Another.

No man can justly censure or condemn another, because indeed no man truly knows another.

KENTUCKY DOC.

(H. L. Taylor)

Kentucky Doc is my name,
And I love My Old Kentucky Home;
I found no other place the same,
While I was on the roam

Every drop of blood in my veins, flows in honor of Old Kentucky, and if it be necessary I will spill it in her defence. Kentucky people are possessed with the gentle ties of brotherly love,—they meet and greet each other with a sunny smile, that has been smiled through centuries; and will be smiled in centuries to come.
As I pull back the curtains of the future, I can see them smiling to each other, and passing eulogies on the glorious mountains. I can see the stars holding back the curtains of the blue sky; and the Angels smiling too;—as they steal through, and dip them a drink from her fountain; with the dipper of stars, which hangs on the sky, and then steal away in the moonbeams—overwhelming in the paradises of Kentucky—forgetting to return to paradise of God, which awaits us all. I have heard it preached that in the end of time; Heaven would be made here on earth—if this be so—I truly believe that Kentucky will be the Throne of God.

It makes no difference where I wander,

It makes no difference where I roam;

In my mind there shall always pooper;

The thoughts of my old Kentucky
Home.

LUKE McLUKE SAYS

Many a fine blacksmith has been spoiled because a fond mother imagined he had musical talent.

when a girl has a sore throat she always imagines that you think that she got it the way she didn't get it.

There is a use for everything.
Most of the homely women are making a good living as beauty specialists.

The way a woman is built has a lot to do with whether she spends her vacation in the country or at the seashore.

There are some spineless mutts in the world. But the lad who says that he loves his enemies is the real human door mat.

One reason why mother's scissors are always sharp is because she can use father's razor when she has any thing tough to cut.

Probably the most hopeless case is that of the man who goes thru life waiting for a chance to get even with some other man.

Some men are so filled with their own importance that if they happened to be struck by lightning they would think they did it.

There are times in a woman's life when she will admit that her hat is too large. But she never will admit that her shoes are too small.

The old-fashioned woman who used to bawl when she went to see "East Lynne" now has a daughter who hisses the villain in the movie films.

As long as the dear things let the men retain the "obey" clause in the marriage contract never let it be said that women have no sense of humor.

There have been a whole lot of definitions of the word "gentleman."
Well, here's another. A gentleman is a man who minds his own business.

This is a queer world. The derelict who manages to live to be 110 years old gets more boosting than the brilliant man who works himself to death before he is fifty.

In the magazines the little man always bluffs the big bully who wants to fight, but in real life the big man gets away with all the bluffs when fight talk is spilled.

Woman is supposed to be more graceful than man. But you would not think it to see a girl wearing a pair of wide trousers and clinging to the rear of a motorcycle.

The old-fashioned girl who blushed at the mention of the word "legs" now has a daughter who wears X-Ray skirts to prove that there ain't no such portion of her anatomy.

There are a lot of little country districts that are voted "dry" by the farmers. But you never met a farmer in one of these dry districts who would refuse a swig out of your flask.

Gee, but time does fly. The girl who was purchasing bust developer last winter so she would be in style is now trying to get thin so she will be in style this winter.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

We have a lot of fool ideas. A woman with eight pounds of store hair on her dome is supposed to keep her hat on at indoor gatherings and a bald-headed man is no gentleman if he doesn't take his hat off.

Maybe the reason why George Washington never told a lie was because he married a widow and he knew she was wise to all the excuses and he had to fess up and tell the truth when he came home late

When the doorbell rings a woman always looks out of the window before she will answer the ring. She wants to see whether it is a collector or an agent with something. If it is an agent with something to sell she will open the door and buy something. If it is a collector trying to get an installment on something the last agent told her she is not at home.

Practical Instruction will be given in Fruit Growing,
Soil Building, Grain Growing, Live Stock and Poultry Raising, Home Economics, and in other Farm rangement an advancement along agricultural lines and feel the County Farmers' Institute will be given work.

CHRISTMAS

Christmas is coming; I wish it were here.

The very best time of the whole of the year;
And the very best thing about it by far.

Is the Methodist Ladies' Aid Bazaar.

I'm counting the weeks on my fingers and when

Christmas at last has come
'round again,

You must come and the Christmas
Bazaar attend.

You'll find that you'll save in all that you spend.

Because you'll find our things to be Pretty and cheap you'll all agree,

Cheap prices, not cheap material made—

And the money all goes to the Ladies' Aid.

This money will help to pay the debt

That we owe on the parsonage yet, Beginning December fifteenth the place undecided,

But the public is cordially invited.

Died as He Lived.

"Easeman is gone, poor chap. Died without a struggle." "Just like Eas-man; he never was known to exert himself in anything."

The More Important Thing.

A big physician says it will soon be possible to control the sex of the child.
Can't some doctor tell us the more important thing—how to control the actions of a child?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Happiness.

Happiness has a way of hovering near those whose first wish is to make others happy.

THE MOUNTAINS

Oh! How beautiful are the Mountains of old Kentucky when the trees have put on their summer wraps of green, decorated in blossoms of varied color; upon the ground is a mat with the glistening, winding rivulets through it, which looks like a rug decorated in diamonds. The air is filled with the odor of flowers, and ten thousand times ten thousand butter-flies are dancing over the meadows by the hum of June bugs.

Oh! Isn't it a paradise? How many of us realize it? If not all, we should. And when we go walking in the Sunday afternoon, in this nature's parlor, or palace, of which the blue sky is the bay-window, and the white clouds the curtains, we should stop to ponder, and let our thoughts float out in the remotest seas of imagination and enlarge this natural picture of Kentucky, which is incomparable.

Dr. H. L. Taylor.

Positively Unreasonable.

Had to "Match" the Lamp.

A sudden storm being imminent the mother of a bright little maid found it necessary to light the lamp. "Just think, papa," the child reported at evening. "It was so dark today that mamma had to match the lamp."

The Uncomfortable Kind.

plenty of $10,000 jobs are vacant doesn't alarm us. There are too many $1 and $2 a day jobs vacant to make the candidates comfortable.—Houston

His One Rival.

"One or the other of us," muttered

BIG POW WOW

On yesterday, Thursday, Oct.
1st, the District Meeting of the Imp. O. R. M. was called to order by Great Sachem Wm. A. Keller
M. D. of Louisville, Ky.

He was accompanied by Great Chief of Records, J. M. Holstner and State Exemplifier, Frank Kindrel, of Louisville.

The meeting was attended and represented as follows: E. E.
Strunk, Red Crow No. 171 Rock-hold, Ky., M. S. Girdner, Wellark No. 281, F. B. Donaldson, Delaware No. 157, Blanch, Ky.,
M. T. McDonald, Tchoupitoulas
No. 111, Barbourville, Ky.

Brother Kindrel the State Exemplifier is one of the best we ever heard. Brother Holstner is the best Chief of Records in the United States and we trust that he may hold this Tall Stump for many years yet to come.

Doctor Keller is a more than the ordinary ambition of a man of deep sense and high culture.
He is not only a Redman of renown, but is a mason having taken the York Rite, and is a Shriner, he is also a member of the F. O. E. He stands high in the political arena having been appointed City Physician by Dr.
J. H. Buchmeyer, Mayor of the city of Louisville. He is also a member the Lutheran Church.

We are glad to have these good men with us and would be glad to have them always, but we cannot. They left on No. 25 today for their homes in Louisville.
This visit here did much good for the Order and we hope to have them with us again.

Dr. Black Makes Last Official Visit.

Dr. W. C. Black left Sunday on a long trip through the State, visiting Owensboro, Monday
King Solomon's Chapter, Louisville; Tuesday he will visit the Widows' and Orphans Home;
Wednesday, at Russellville;
Thursday, at Liberty; Friday and Saturday he will go to Manchester to institute a new Chapter taking the home degree team, which will complete his year's work so far as official visits are concerned.

THE MOUNTAIN ADVOCATE

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY AT BARBOURVILLE, KENTUCKYW. H. McDONALD, EDITOR
V. C. McDONALD, ASSOC. EDITOREntered as Second-Class Matter February 16, 1904 at the Postoffice at Barbourville, Ky., under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

One Dollar Per Year in Advance

The Official Organ of the Republican Party in Knox County.

With this issue of the Advocate ends Vol. III, and it starts next week on Vol. IV, with bright prospects for another year's publication with an increasing circulation.

Money can never buy contentment. The world owes more to grit than genius. Holding out for three days more discovered America.

"When you go to kicking you are going to be kicked; for most people will not tamely submit to kicking."

Most everybody likes a little free puff in the home paper, but how few ever think to acknowledge their appreciation to the editors.—Heacock, of Brighton, Ia.

The football coaches will soon begin work at the colleges and incidentally the professors will be allowed to hold a few classes.—Stoll, of Lawrenceville, Ill.

Teddy having discovered a new river while on his trip to South America, instead of "Onward Christian Soldiers," the Bull Moosers may adopt "Shall We Gather at the River" as a battle song.—Busick, of Orleans, Ind.

On one side of John's laundry was a detective agency with the legend, "We Never Sleep"

On the other side was a drugstore, putting forth the information, "Open All Night"

John studied those signs and felt that something was due to himself so he put over his door, "Me Wakes too."

The "Star" twinkles every night with four reels of pictures.

A Howl and a Hint

The manner in which those genteel guemen who deal in printers' supplies have whooped up the prices on everything used around a newspaper office is simply klosostorous. The ink factories have shot the price of news ink up to a point that makes Gilderoy's justly famous kite look like a sunken submarine. The paper barons act as if they thought their wood pulp products ought to bring as much as India bible stock. And tye! Why, you'd think type metal was composed of two parts radium and one part auroraborealis. Even Aunt Mandy Jackson, in her sealed bid for washing our towels, quotes a figure 50% higher than that quoted when thinking of having them washed last year. At that, we could manage to ease through this month if some of our valued subscribers would kick in with a little of that emergency currency. Even a few old fashioned dollar bills would do.

Distribution of the Costs of War

Even if the war should come to an end in a few months, the echo its disturbing effects would be felt in the market for capital, because of the considerable loans which it would be necessary for the governments involved to offer to the public. Experience in former wars has shown that the countries which prepare to absorb new issues of their national loans do so by quickly reducing their holdings of foreign securities, time of peace, this would not be done with the precaditation and sacrifice of values which occur under the threat of war, but the effect would probably be to depress the price of other securities and make it difficult to obtain capital for new enterprises while the costs of war were being distributed over the world's money markets.

America, therefore, whatever her temporary profits from an enhanced demand for certain products and the opening of new opportunities for her commerce and shipping, will be compelled to bear some share of the loss caused by the consumption of hundreds of millions of the world's savings in supporting contending armies and keeping them supplied with the weapons of destruction.—From "American Finance in the War Tempest," by Charles A. Conant, in the American Review of Reviews for September.

Why Europe is at War

For the causes of the titanic struggle now moving Europe, it is necessary to go back a little into history.

Europe's political development, during the past four or five centuries has been largely conditioned by what international law writers term the "continental conception." The Holy Roman Empire, with its claim for the dominance of the Emperor and the subordination of the other states, was followed by the independent sovereignty doctrine. This maintained that every nation was not only free and sovereign, but that it was equal to every other nation in the councils of the continent. This conception was succeeded, in the middle of the past century, by the idea of the "concert of Europe." It came to be believed that an agreement of the Great Powers—which since 1870 has been Great Britain, France, Russia, Germany, Austria, and Italy,—should determine the policies of the continent and keep the peace. Every dispute between nations, little or big, was considered as a continental matter by this "concert" or general council, which unitedly imposed its will.

At the same time there was growing up the condition and doctrine known as the "balance of power." After the Congress of Vienna in 1815, which liquidated the Napoleonic convulsions and settled the large lines of the map of Europe for more than half a century, the European nations assumed the point of view that any acquisition of power, territory, or population by any one of them entitled all the others to compensation, so that the relative strength and importance might not be disturbed. Hence we find, after every important war since Napoleon's time, the practice of the European "concert" to take part in the settlement of the terms of peace and so adjust the gains of the victor and the losses of the vanquished that the much-discussed "balance" might not be upset. Any threatened disturbance of this balance has always had in it the seeds of a general conflict.

The balance-of-power fetish has been one of the four great moving causes of the present war. The other three may be briefly set forth as militarism, with its attendant jealousy and the obstacles it presents to many needed social and economic reforms; the age-long world rivalry between Teuton and Slav; and the struggle of Europe's swarming and industrial and commercial nations for the markets of Asia.—From "Europe at War," by Louis E. Van Nostrand, in the American Review of Reviews for September.

KENTUCKY

W. C. G. HOBBBS
Lexington, Ky.

Kentucky, oh, Kentucky! all thy glories I proclaim,
Though in faltering accent stammer
Thy renown and deathless fame.
"Dark and Bloody Grounds" they term thee,
Sporting people, wild and free

But her mountains echo wildly
And denounce the fable told,
In her stalwart, manly manhood,
Men of courage high and bold.

Sweep on and ever onward,
To the place where nations meet:
Laying life and ties of loved ones
Calmly at their country's feet.

Christened all the fields of carnage
With a hero's reddest blood;
Seeking only, seeking always
For their state's and nation's good.

From the Bluegrass and the Purchase
And the noted Pennyrite
Thunders back this black calamity,
Echoes false, malicious, vile.

Oh, the beauty of the valleys and Thy sun-kissed mountains high,
And the silvery, rippling rivers,
And thy maiden's love-lit eyes.

And the virtue of thy bosom,
Where our fathers sweetly sleep;
And the fame of countless heroes
Ceaseless virgils found them keep

Then Kentucky, oh, Kentucky,
Heed my call and last behest:
When I'm cold and stark and lifeless

Lewis

Death has no respect for youth or old age, it comes when least expected, and takes from us our loved one;

On Saturday night at 12 o'clock Mrs. Sam L. Lewis departed this life, at the age of 21 years. Mrs. Lewis was a Miss Martin, and she and Sheriff S. L. Lewis had only been married about three months when the summons came for her to come up higher. Mr. Lewis has a family of small children who had learned to love Mrs. Lewis with the most profound love, and it was one of the heart-rending scenes we ever witnessed to see the little one weep over the one that had endeared herself to them. Mrs. Lewis was a strong healthy young woman, and it looked as though these were yet many happy days in store for her, but in the very midst of happiness death laid its ruthless hand upon her and she had to go. Sheriff Lewis has our deepest sympathy, as well as the entire family in their sad bereavement.

TOBACCO GROWERS,

LOOK!

Considerable quantities of tobacco stems have long been exported to Germany and other parts of Europe where they are often used in the manufacture of low-grade smoking tobacco and as a source of nicotine. Should the demand of Europe for American tobacco stems cease, these stems, which contain large quantities of plant food, especially potash, may be used to good advantage by the American grower of tobacco as fertilizer. Soil fertilized by these stems, secured from the cigar and tobacco factories and stemmeries, will produce leaf-tobacco of better burning qualities and texture. Tobacco stems as fertilizer should be applied in smaller quantities than manure, because they contain larger quantities of the constituents which feed the plant, according to the Department of Agriculture's tobacco specialists. Two tons per acre of "seed stems" (stems from cigar factories) or 2½ tons of "Kentucky stems" (stems from the tobacco factories and stemmeries) are known to give good results in New England and, so far as available, these stems will undoubtedly furnish a very satisfactory source of potash, as well as other plant foods, in other tobacco sections.

If you have a visitor in your home or know of some one visiting in or out of town, you will be glad if you would

NOTICE

To the County Assessor and his deputies. September 1st is the day in which the County Assessment is supposed to begin, and I know it is and will be a troublesome job, and a work that is very responsible. The proper and correct assessment of all real and personal property is of great advantage to the citizens and tax payers of our county, and by taking all lists accurate from poll to taxable it will save hundreds of men in the county money in several ways, and will greatly reduce the cost of clerks, sheriffs and supervisors cost to the county. The county for the year of 1914 will pay on four million one hundred and ten thousand dollars taxable property real and personal it is the duty of the Assessor and his deputies to see that all poll tax payers are correctly listed and not twice listed. All taxes that are omitted by him must be supplied by the supervisors or the State will want to know the reason, and if you will adhere to the correctness of each and every report list you will save our people time and money and will help me in reducing the great expense that has been arising from this one thing. This I think you will do, and I am ready and willing to aid you in this and it will save the county hundreds of dollars.

Yours,
Thomas S. Hammons, Judge.

They are relics of the civil war, and many people gathered in Mayor Steele's office to examine the curiosities. They were dug out near the public well, near the site of headquarters for the federal army in Kentucky. All the supplies were shipped here, this being the terminal of the railroad, and the supplies were handled from Nicholasville as far south as Knoxville, Tenn.

INJUNCTION IS GRANTED BY COURT

REMOVAL OF BYARS FORBIDDEN BY JUDGE—ONE INVESTIGATION SUFFICIENT.

APPEAL HAS BEEN TAKEN

And the Case May Be Taken to Circuit Court—The Grand Jury is Investigating.

(Special Frankfort Correspondence.) Frankfort.—Holding that one investigation at a time is sufficient, Circuit Judge R. L. Stout granted the injunction prayed for by T. S. Byars, of Shelbyville, commissioner of motor vehicles, restraining the sinking fund commission from investigating the charges of shortage made against Byars' department while the grand jury of this county is making the investigation.

The injunction restrains the commission from removing Byars, as the only method provided is by impeachment.

The sinking fund commission comprises Governor McCreary, State Auditor Bosworth, State Treasurer Rhea, Secretary of State Creswell and Attorney General Garnett. After the decision of Judge Stout, Assistant Attorney General Logan said that he thought Judge Stout was right, because he had found no authority for an investigation or removal of Byars by the commission.

An appeal was taken, however, and the case may go at once to the circuit court.

Asks Pardon For Youtsey.

A delegation of the friends of Henry E. Youtsey, now serving a life sentence in the prison at Frankfort on conviction of complicity in the assassination of William Goebel, have made a personal appeal to the governor to pardon Youtsey.

The delegation included not only friends of Youtsey, but also several who feel that Youtsey should not continue to be the only one to suffer for the crime. All others who were accused of complicity have avoided prosecution or received pardons.

Some time ago Mrs. Kate E. Brown of Frankfort, set on foot a movement to secure the pardon of Youtsey. She had become interested in the prisoner and her sympathy was aroused to such an extent that she conducted a systematic campaign.

It is pointed out that Youtsey was an obscure stenographer when he got into trouble, that his record had been unblemished and that he was drawn into the conspiracy by circumstance and environment. He has served thirteen years in the Frankfort prison.

Source of Revenue.

Judge Garrett S. Wall, president of the Board of Control for Charitable Institutions, reports all the institutions in fine condition. Speaking of the Eastern State Hospital, at Lexington, it represents, he said, a broad population of 500 people and a transient population of about 5,000 a year, called to visit and ask about the patients' families and employees. The monthly expenditures amount to about $25,000, or nearly $300,000 a year, most of which is expended in Lexington. The water company alone receives about $2,500, gas, electric light and coal companies in like sums. About 7,000 tons of coal being used. What the 5,000 transient visitors expend must be very large, he says, for they have to stay in your hotels and boarding houses. These people advertise and advance the interests of this city all over the Eastern and Central parts of the state, and the hospital is a very valuable asset of a city.

Federal Rescuers Sent.

Six men from the rescue car of the United States Bureau of Mines left here in an automobile for Lockport to rescue the entombed miners in the lead mine, which was on fire at that place. The entombed miners are William Marion and Bailey Hall. The fire in the mine started in the shaft from an explosion, and before the elevator could be dropped to get out the entombed men, the shaft was burning. The rescuers are G. T. Powell, W. E. German, W. W. Sullivan, J. H. East, R. H. Belp and H. D. Jones.

Kentucky Commission.

The state railroad commission practically completed the assessments of all of the railroads operating in this state and the revenue derived from this source will be little changed from last year. Such changes as will be made in the assessments will be on account of improvements on the Louisville & Nashville, Chesapeake & Ohio, Louisville & Jeffersonville Bridge Co. The commission will meet October 7.

Many Are Interested.

A Kentucky representative in congress, writing the Kentucky Illiteracy Commission his endorsement of the movement to stamp out illiteracy as follows: "In my judgment no improvement for the benefit of the state is of such basic importance as that seeking to eradicate illiteracy among the people of Kentucky. Upon its success directly depends the future of our state, and those actively engaged in the work can have the assurance that their efforts are fraught with the greatest good of our commonwealth."

DISREGARD OF COURT DECISIONS

COURT LOWERS BARS ON ATTEMPTS TO REVIVE OLD QUESTION FOR ARGUMENTS.

THE COURT OF LAST RESORT

Lecture Is Read To Circuit Judges—Will Not Entertain Appeals Involving Same Question.

(Special Frankfort Correspondence.) Frankfort.—Disregard of the decisions of the court of appeals by circuit judges will not be tolerated. In reversing the judgment of the Carter circuit court in the case of John F. Rist against the commonwealth, the appellate court took occasion to read a lecture to circuit judges.

In this case Rist had been convicted of selling liquor in local option territory, notwithstanding the appellate court had held in a number of cases, and several from that county, that liquor dealers selling liquor under similar circumstances were not guilty of violating local option laws. Robert Collier, a resident of Carter county, sent a mail order to Rist, a liquor dealer in Catlettsburg, for whisky, which was delivered to a carrier in Catlettsburg and shipped to Collier.

The court says: "The court of appeals is the court of last resort in this state. Its decisions in any case is the law not only of that case, but of all like other cases subsequently arising in the inferior courts of the state. Where the law has been repeatedly and finally settled it is but a waste of time and an obstruction to the rights of other litigants to compel it to entertain further appeals involving the same question."

Grand Lodge Meeting.

Three hundred representatives and probably half as many visitors will attend the Kentucky grand lodge meeting of the Knights of Pythias and the Pythian Sisters here Tuesday and Wednesday, October 6 and 7. The sessions will be held in the Capital Hotel, with an open meeting commencing at 11 o'clock the first morning. A feature of this occasion will be the appearance on the stage of 90 children from the Pythian home at Lexington, who will sing. Assistant Atty. Gen. Logan will welcome the representatives in behalf of the local fraternal organization; Mayor Rupert will welcome them to Frankfort, and Col. Noel Gaines will deliver the address in behalf of Dexter Lodge No. 54.

Reserve 700 Miles in Length.

A forest reserve seven hundred miles in extent, including all of Pine Mountain and the Pine Mountain "fault," a section of Harlan county north of the mountain and portions of Leslie, Letcher and Clay, has been recommended to the Government Forest Service by the reconnaissance crew which has been engaged in Eastern Kentucky all summer, according to a letter received by State Forester J. E. Barton.

The crew also will recommend a federal forest reserve of about 50,000 acres just west of the coal measures on the border of the Blue Grass. The areas will comprise about 450,000 acres.

Personal Injury Award.

A verdict of $1,500 damages for personal injuries returned in the Eighth Circuit Court in favor of W. H. Cox against John B. Carter & Co., was affirmed by the Court of Appeals in an opinion written by Judge Miller. Cox was injured while working with a well drill. A verdict directed by the Lewis Circuit Court in favor of the Chesapeake & Ohio in the suit of J. L. Truesdell was affirmed in an opinion by Commissioner William Rogers Clay. Truesdell was section hand and was injured by the rebound of a rail.

Puzzled by "Bug" Visitors.

Millions of yellow moths, not yet named by Frankfort entomologists, infested every portion of Frankfort. Whence they came and where they were going no one seems to know. Houses and fronts of stores along Broadway, where bright lights are burned, were literally covered with the insects. Buildings in the vicinity of Broadway and Ann streets were coated with a writhing mass of bugs three inches in thickness.

Select Depository.

Judgment of the Kenton Circuit Court refusing an injunction to James A. Stephens, treasurer of Ludlow, a fourth-class city, to restrain the city council from enforcing an ordinance inviting bids from depository of city funds was affirmed by the Court of Appeals, which said the council has authority to select the depository.

Program Completed.

Arrangements for the entertainment of the United Daughters of the Confederacy of Kentucky here October 14 and 15 contemplate among other things a public reception to be given in their honor by the governor at the Mansion the night of October 14 marking the opening of the Capital social season; a large party to be given on the Kentucky river the afternoon of October 15 by the Sons of the Confederacy, and a historical light to close the session in the room of the State Historical Society.

BOND ELECTION IS HELD TO BE VALID

EXPECTED THAT ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND BOND ISSUE WILL BE SAVED.

ATTY. GEN. RENDERS OPINION

Governor's Message to Legislature of 1910 Was Within Meaning of the Constitution.

Western Newspaper Union News Service. Frankfort.—Lewis county, the first county to take advantage of the state tax to aid road building, will save its $150,000 road bond issue, it is now believed, as Attorney General Garnett gave an opinion that Gov. Willson's message to the general assembly in 1910 was within the meaning of the Constitution a proclamation, putting into operation the 1909 constitutional amendment.

The doubt as to the validity of the amendment was the snag on which the bond issue hung, as bankers hesitated to take the bonds. The amendment permits a county to incur indebtedness equal to 5 per cent of the total assessed value of property within it. The records of the state board of election commissioners show that the amendment carried as required by law, and this was published by Secretary of State Ben Bruner; but there is no entry on the executive journal to show that Gov. Willson issued a proclamation declaring the amendment in operation. He did, however, in his message to the next general assembly, announce the fact, and this, Attorney General Garnett believes, is a proclamation sufficient to satisfy the Constitution.

POTENTIAL RIVER COMPETITION IDEA

OPPORTUNITY FOR JUDICIAL CONSTRUCTION IN SUIT SOON TO BE BROUGHT.

FIX BASIS FOR FREIGHT RATES

Actual Competition By Water From Louisville To Central City Claimed Not To Exist.

(Special Frankfort Correspondence.) Frankfort.—Whether potential river competition is as effective in Kentucky in fixing a basis for freight rates as actual competition, is the question involved in a suit which Atty. Gen. Garnett will bring against the Illinois Central railroad to enforce an order of the state railroad commission, establishing the same rate via the Illinois Central from Louisville to Central City as now exists from Louisville to Owensboro, plus 7 cents drayage for the three miles from Green river to Central City.

Actual competition by water from Louisville to Central City does not exist, though boats run there from Evansville. The Interstate commerce commission is the Bowling Green rate case, in which it is found that a railroad company had bought up the boats and thus eliminated water competition as a factor in making the freight rates, declared this could not be, and as long as Bowling Green had the navigable river, and though the railroads have the boats, potential river competition exists, and Bowling Green is entitled to river rates.

The order of the railroad commission was predicated on this same theory. The railroad's attorney said at the time they thought the question ought to be settled by a lawsuit.

Only One Bid.

Only one bid and that for the labor of 75 of the 650 reformatory convicts for whose labor by the Hoge-Montgomery Co. will expire in January, was in hand when Chairman Daniel E. O'Sullivan and Prison Commissioner Henry Lawrence proceeded to open the bids. No action was taken and none will be until the commissioners' next meeting. Charles Iron, of Frankfort, chair manufacturer, offered 75 cents the day capita for the labor of 75 able bodied men, and made a conditional bid for the labor of infirm inmates, based on their earning capacity at the rate per day as the able bodied men. The Hoge-Montgomery Co. made no bid for this labor. The same company has under contract 400 convicts, which contracts expire in January with options to renew them for four years on the same terms.

In the advertisement for the bids on the labor of the 650 men, the commission announced that the contracts would be subject to the stipulation that if the state within the life of the contract should adopt a constitutional amendment, abolishing the prison contract labor system, the contracts should at once become void. This possibly prevented many bids.

Insurance Companies Sued.

The commonwealth, by State Auditor H. M. Bosworth, filed suit in the Franklin circuit court against the Shawnee Fire Insurance Co. of Kansas and the National Fire Insurance Co. of Hartford to collect $959.42 alleged to be due as a tax on premiums paid the Shawnee, which reinsured in the National, and $2,655.91 penalties and interest. The National was made a party for the purpose of ascertaining from which company the tax is due. Suit also was filed against the Guaranty Life Assurance society, of Omaha, to collect $1,691.96 fees for an inspection made at Omaha when the company was seeking a license to do business in Kentucky.

Women-May Place Tags.

Permission to exhibitors in the woman's department of the state fair to put price tags on the articles they display is expected to induce an unusually large, varied and attractive assortment of domestic handwork this year. Mrs. Thomas J. Smith, head of the department, said that while sales will not be permitted on the grounds, she believed that the price question always is associated with popular appraisal of the exhibits, so this concession was made.

Plan For Big Class.

Glass Plant to Start.

The latest appliances for making bottles with machinery, going away, with a great deal of the hand labor, will be installed. If the project is consummated, when running at full capacity, 100 people are employed.

KENTUCKY AT EXPOSITION

Checks Received From Several Sources and Souvenirs Sold.

Louisville, Ky.—With organization work well under way, the campaign of the Panama-Pacific exposition commission of Kentucky to create a fund to pay for a Kentucky building and a Kentucky exhibit at the big San Francisco International exposition of 1915 is taking on impetus.

Several hundred of the official Kentucky souvenirs for the exposition, watch-fobs, pocket-pieces and pendants bearing the Kentucky and Panama-Pacific exposition seals were sold at the state fair.

"Times are hard and the sales are not proceeding quite so rapidly as they would under more favorable conditions," says Chairman J. W. Holland, of Shelbyville, commenting on the work thus far within our power to raise at least $50,000 to see that Kentucky is as well represented as her sister states at the great exposition in San Francisco. It is our plan to give any person or organization that wishes the opportunity to sell Kentucky souvenirs for the exposition.

HEADS STATE BANKERS

The association elected J. Will Stoll, sr., president of the First and City National bank, of this city, president of the Kentucky Bankers' association. The meeting of the members of the American Bankers' association was also held, and C. E. Hoge, of Frankfort, was named member of the executive committee to serve for three years, succeeding John W. Downing, of Georgetown.

Waddle, at the court house, to make plans to see that the prohibition law is enforced. Speeches were made by leading citizens and all promised to get behind the police to help them enforce the law. Another meeting will be held, when the committee appointed will report and an organization will be effected.

Miss Williamson has lectured in ten schools.

GREAT NEED OF SYSTEMATIC WORK

MORE FUNDS ARE NEEDED

Forty Cases of Tuberculosis and Twenty Cases of Trachoma Found in One County.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Lawrenceburg, Ky.—The Plerian Club of Lawrenceburg, resolved to give the customary banquet in honor of the incoming president, Mrs. Mary E. Dowling, and to devote the money ordinarily spent for this purpose to aiding the visiting nurse work being done in the county.

Miss Emma Hunt, a nurse representing the Tuberculosis Commission, has visited every school in Anderson county. Altogether she has found forty cases of consumption and more than twenty cases of trachoma. The revelation of these cases has shown to the people of Anderson county the great need of a systematic effort to eradicate preventable disease. The Woman's Club is prepared to contribute $200 for the hiring of a permanent visiting nurse for the county. The fiscal court and city council and public-spirited citizens will be approached for funds sufficient to guarantee this work.

TO BE KENTUCKYESQUE

Legro "Mammies" to Have Charge of State Building at Exposition.

Louisville, Ky.—John W. Holland, chairman of the Panama-Pacific Exposition Commission of Kentucky, has received word from San Francisco that arrangements have been closed for a better site for the Kentucky building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition than the site originally allotted to the commission.

The site originally chosen had no view. The new site commands an excellent marine view of San Francisco Bay. On account of the exceedingly interesting water exhibits of all kinds this will be invaluable.

Following general suggestions of Kenneth McDonald, of San Francisco, formerly a member of the firm of McDonald & Dodd, architects, of Louisville, the Kentucky building will have a colorful facade carried out in the colors of the exposition proper, undoubtedly one of the most attractive features of the exposition.

MANY KENTUCKY HORSES

Are Being Rapidly Acquired by the English Government.

Lexington, Ky.—Kentucky-bred horses in large numbers have in the last ten days been purchased and shipped to Canada for transportation abroad to be used by the English and Canadian troops now engaged in the European war. These horses are mainly cavalry horses, and were bought by the firm of Harbison, Jewell & Patterson.

It was learned that between 500 and 600 of these cavalry horses bought from all of the surrounding Blue-grass counties, were surrounded here, where they were inspected by Canadian government officials for that purpose, and shipped out of Lexington for Montreal, where they were turned over to the government.

WO ARE KILLED BY GAS

GOOD ROADS MEETING

Impetus Given Good Roads Building at Meeting of County Judges.

Louisville, Ky.—Impetus was given to good road building in Kentucky at a meeting of the Association of County Judges at the court house, attended by 30 officials from various sections of the state. With the assistance of R. C. Terrell, state highway commissioner, the judges were thoroughly enlightened on the law recently passed by the general assembly relative to state and in building good roads.

Commissioner Terrell said it was imperative that the efforts of his department receive the earnest support of the county judges if results were to be obtained, and that with good roads abounding in the various counties the judges responsible would leave a monument to their memory that would live for all time. He said incompetency displayed by many men heretofore in charge of road building, as shown in examinations of applicants for positions as road engineers, was astonishing. In many instances, he said, these men had been in charge of the work in their respective counties for years because of a political pull or because of friendship of the appointing power, and counties had paid out thousands of dollars without receiving any good results.

Under the new road law Kentucky will raise next year approximately $600,000, Commissioner Terrell said, and of this amount Jefferson county will contribute $120,000. Of the amount thus to be contributed by Jefferson county, he said, the county will get back into its road fund $12,000, while the remainder, $108,000 will be contributed to other counties. Forty of the counties, he said, will contribute only from $2,000 to $5,000 for state aid, and as a result they will have to draw from the fund contributed by other counties.

THREE STORY BUILDING

Collapses at Richmond—Masonic Temple Wrecked.

Richmond, Ky.—The large building here known as the Masonic Temple collapsed. The building was a three-story one. The lower floors were occupied by the R. C. H. Covington Co., clothing and men's furnishings, while the second story was used as a club for the fraternity and a dance hall, while the lodge rooms were located on the third floor. It is not known what caused the collapse of the building, as it was remodeled and modernized about five years ago. It was located on Main street on the most frequented corner of the city, and it seems almost a miracle that none of the employees were hurt, as the building is now a wreck.

ILLITERACY IN MERCER

People Attending Night Schools Which Are Becoming Very Popular.

Harrodsburg, Ky.—It is only a few weeks since the question of moonlight schools in Mercer first began to be agitated. The county superintendent, Miss Ora Adams, who was among the first to organize corn clubs, canning clubs and school fairs, took up the proposal to establish moonlight schools in a systematic manner, and as a result there are now ten of these night schools hard at work and they are attended by both men and women who were unable to read. Many of the latter can now read and many are rapidly learning to write. The schools are located in the country precincts and are becoming very popular. In another fortnight there will be a dozen more in operation.

Easy Way Out of It.

"We know a stenographer," says the Peoria Journal, "who refuses to write letters on pale blue stationery because it doesn't agree with her complexion."
